His Custodian, and Fatally Injured
Edward Stursing, Who Tried to Interfere.

Des Moines, Ia., March 25.—One man was killed and another was fatally injured by Dr. H. B. Kelley of Council Bluffs in this city today. Clarence Woelmann is dead, and Edward Stursing is in the hospital, badly wounded. The shooting occurred while Woelmann, who was a deputy sheriff, was taking Dr. Kelley to the depot here to board the train for Knoxville, where the doctor was to be placed in an inebriate asylum for treatment. Suddenly the doctor drew a revolver and shot his custodian, death being instantaneous. Stursing, who was standing nearby, ran to the officer's assistance, when Dr. Kelley fired the shot, and he also was the object of the doctor's mania, receiving what is thought to be a fatal wound. Dr. Kelley was then overpowered and placed under arrest.

The arrest was the result of an investigation by Sheriff Smith of Sonoma county.

A card found near the tent contained the name and address of a San Francisco woman, whose identity is being withheld by the police. Sheriff Smith interviewed this woman, and says she told him Chisholm had declared that if she would pose as a widow he would procure a corpse and collect a large sum of life insurance.

JURY OUT 20 MINUTES.

Senator Broderick Found Not Guilty of Bribery in Illinois.

Springfield, Ill., March 25.—State Senator John Broderick was found not guilty by a jury in the Sangamon county circuit court yesterday afternoon. The jury was out but 20 minutes.

Broderick was charged with bribery in connection with the election of United States Senator William Lorimer. Testimony was heard at the trial that he had given $2,500 to former State Senator D. W. Holstlaw of Tulsa for the latter's vote for Lorimer. Holstlaw testified he was paid the money in Broderick's saloon in Chicago.

While the Senate sub-committee was investigating the Lorimer election in Chicago last summer, Broderick refused to answer some of the questions asked him, taking refuge behind his constitutional privilege to decline to incriminate himself.

The alleged payment to Senator Holstlaw of $2,500 for his vote for Lorimer was said to have taken place in Broderick's saloon in Chicago on June 16, 1909, shortly after the election of Lorimer by the Illinois legislature.

Holstlaw testified that Broderick, on the eve of the election of Lorimer, had said that there was $2,500 in it for Holstlaw if he voted for Lorimer and that subsequently Broderick told him where his place of business was. Holstlaw told of the payment of $2,500 in Broderick's saloon and the deposit of $2,500 by Holstlaw in a Chicago bank.

The defense introduced evidence to show the unreliability of Holstlaw. Men who were in Broderick's saloon with Holstlaw swore that no money changed hands at the meeting of Broderick and Holstlaw. The defense alleged also that the Chicago Tribune had attempted to destroy Lorimer.

SECRECY ABOUT AUTOPSY

On Body of George H. Lawson, Who Died in Insane Asylum.

Boston, March 25.—Dr. John Trask of Lynn, who attended in the interests of the family, the autopsy performed yesterday on the body of George H. Lawson, formerly of Lynn, who died in the Westboro insane hospital on the night of March 16, declared last night that nothing was discovered to lead to the belief that Lawson was the victim of violence. There were no bruises about the face or head, he said, no discoloration of the eyes and no abrasions about the base of the spine, as reported, nor anything to indicate insanity in the report giving hemorrhage of the stomach probably induced by ulceration, as the cause of death.

Considerable secrecy, however, attends the autopsy, which was performed by Dr. Albert Evans and at which Medical Examiner Pinkham was not present. The brain, stomach and some other organs were carried away by the examiners.

Dr. Evans refused to say at whose orders he was conducting the post-mortem examinations, but relatives of the dead man expressed the belief that the autopsy was made at the suggestion of Gov. Foss, inasmuch as they had not asked for such a proceeding. Dr. Evans would neither make public the result of his observations nor give the names of the assisting physicians. He said that the autopsy was a private affair and that he could not discuss it.

BETTER FARMING SPECIAL.

Will Be Run Over the Central Vermont
Railway Next Month.

Burlington, March 25.—A conference between Central Vermont railway officials, Commissioner of Agriculture O. L. Martin of Plainfield and Prof. L. J. Hills was held yesterday afternoon at the Van Ness house, when plans for running a "better farming special" over the Central Vermont road were discussed. The train, if run, would be similar to that of last year over the Rutland road. It is the plan to run such a train in April and have it contain exhibits of farm implements and agricultural products, and a group of lecturers who will give ten minute lectures at the stopping places.

The sentiment seemed to be in favor of such a train, Commissioner Martin and Professor Hills expressing themselves as being well pleased with the train of a year ago and its results. The train last year was run by the Rutland road in conjunction with the university of Vermont and the scheme this year would be about the same, except through another territory.

Development of the direct result of Senor Liman's conference with the insurrecto agents in New York. In spite of the resignation of the Mexican cabinet, the junta here declared today that there will be no cessation of hostilities in the war zone.

Wheel Axle.

Savannah, Ga., March 25.—At least seven persons were killed and many were injured when the "Dixie Flyer," running from Chicago to Jacksonville, Florida, went through a trestle over Alapaha river near Occolo this morning. The five coaches which were derailed are resting now in ten feet of water, and the train carried down with it four hundred feet of the trestle. The accident was caused by the breaking of the engine driving wheel axle.

Seven bodies had been removed from the river at noon, and it was then said that the list of the dead may be increased when the debris is cleared. An announcement was made that it will be thirty-six hours before the trains run.

SUSPICION ABOUT
CLAREMONT FIREBuilding Used for School Purposes Was Gutted This Morning and Cause
Is Not Known.

Claremont, N. H., March 25.—Fire early this morning completely gutted the two and one-half story brick structure on High street, in which were housed the primary grades. The loss will be in the vicinity of $8,000. The alarm from box 37 was pulled in by George Merchaud at 12:15 a. m. The fire was first seen by Wallace Bugbee, a neighbor, who noticed it coming from the cellar, but by the time the alarm was sounded it had reached the attic and was burning like wildfire.

The stack of the fire was hindered by the lack of adequate pressure on the hydrants, owing to the situation upon the high ground, and the flying slate from the roof made the task an extremely hazardous one. A number of narrow escapes from these flying missiles were noted.

A number of rather suspicious circumstances surround this fire. The fact that the high school was broken into last Wednesday lends weight to the suggestions that the work was that of an incendiary.

WOMAN BADLY BURNED.

While Locked Alone in Her Room at Providence.

Providence, March 25.—While locked alone in her room in a downtown office building yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Sarah Heatt's clothing caught fire and before her door was broken in and she was rescued by Dr. Arthur Manchester, a dentist, she was so badly burned that it is believed she will die. Mrs. Heatt is a corseteer and 79 years old. Miss A. E. Miley, a milliner, who worked in the same room, says she left the aged woman asleep on a couch when she went out to lunch, and as Mrs. Heatt was deaf she locked the door, as she was in the habit of doing. Mrs. Heatt, Miss Miley stated, also had a key to the door. Shortly after Miss Miley left, the screams of Mrs. Heatt brought many of the occupants of the building to her door, where through the glass they saw her covered with flames. Dr. Manchester, a dentist with an office in the building, forced the door with his shoulder and carried the woman out, severely burning his hands. She was sent to the hospital.

The fire is believed to have originated from a small alcohol lamp, which the woman used in heat, and which the family is believed to live in Brooklyn, N. Y. The property loss was small.

TO UNIONIZE BURLINGTON.

Movement Started Last Night to Better
the Labor Conditions.

Burlington, March 25.—Organized labor in Burlington received a new spirit last night in city hall, when a largely attended mass meeting was held, under the auspices of the Central Labor union and the carpenters' district council. Last night's meeting was a forerunner of a movement to better the conditions under which the laboring men of the city work, and to organize all classes of labor on a firmer union basis. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Eagle band, and delegates from the various organized labor unions in the city occupied places on the platform.

The presiding officer was George E. Maynard and the principal speaker was John E. Potts of Boston, general organizer of the Brotherhood of Carpenters of America. There were other speakers, including Mayor James E. Burke and Prof. Charles W. Myster of the university of Vermont. Mr. Potts stated in an interview prior to the meeting that his purpose in coming to Burlington was to agitate better working conditions for the laboring men, such as shorter hours and more pay. The men want the nine and ten-hour day reduced to eight hours, and also want an increase in pay. At present carpenters are receiving 83 per day for inside work and $1.25 and upward for outside work. Mr. Potts did not specify what schedule of wages the men would ask for, but he stated in his address later that he would return to Burlington within a week or two, at which time it is expected that this matter will be considered.

FILES CLAIM FOR FORTUNE.

Rutland Woman May Be First Heir to $6,000,000 in France.

Rutland, March 25.—Mrs. David J. Carpenter, wife of the yard foreman of the Rutland Manufacturing company here, has filed a claim for her share in a $6,000,000 estate left by one Madame Huot in Paris, France, wife of a French army officer, the ground that she is a direct descendant of the dead woman, who was Marie Victoria Normandin. Mrs. Carpenter's maiden name was Rose Normandin.

Through members of Mrs. Carpenter's family, who live in Montreal and who have just left for Paris to appear before Madame Huot's lawyers, the Rutland woman's claim will be presented and she expects to hear definite news in a short time.

The first indication she had that there was a possible fortune coming to her was when she read two weeks ago in a Montreal newspaper of the death of Madame Huot and the search that her attorneys were making to locate the heirs, who are scattered all over the world. Every development in the steps she has so far taken indicate that she will establish her descent from the Normandin family.

Dr. George H. Normandin of Pawtucket, R. I., who is a relative of Mrs. Carpenter, has been notified that he is an heir.

PERSONATING
HIS FATHERYoung Man Alleged to Have Deceived Montpelier Men

AND HE IS UNDER ARREST

Captured in Burlington Hotel Last Evening and Brought Back to Montpelier To-day to Face Accusation.

A young man giving the name of Leo Bourdon is under arrest in Washington county jail on a peculiar charge, that of personating his father to obtain money under false pretenses. George N. White and Raphael Lanier are the alleged victims of the scheme, the former giving up $5 and the latter $10. Bourdon was arrested in the Sherwood house in Burlington by Chief Russell of the Burlington police last night, on request of the Montpelier officers, the trail leading there through the act of Chief Durkee in noticing the young man yesterday while he (the chief) was temporarily stopping in Burlington.

Bourdon first came to Montpelier one week ago to-day, stopping at the Montpelier house. He had no baggage, and when he said he represented the Rexall Remedy company. He simply said he wasn't going to show his goods in Montpelier. He stayed on, however, and on Wednesday the hotel people became suspicious and footed up his bill, which amounted to $8.75. They sent a sheriff out to find the fellow, and the officer rounded him up at the station. The sheriff brought the young man back, and that service added to the bill until it amounted to $10.70.

In his distress Bourdon went to Mr. White, who runs a carpet-cleaning place opposite the county jail on Elm street and told his tale of woe. Mr. White knew Bourdon's father in Woodstock, and he took pity on the fellow. After a while the young man went out. Some time later Mr. White got what purported to be a long-distance call from Woodstock, and a voice proclaimed that it was Bourdon, Jr., who was talking from Woodstock. The voice said that his son, Leo, was in trouble in Montpelier, and that Mr. White help him out. Shortly, young Bourdon appeared, and Mr. White says he gave him five dollars.

Meanwhile, Raphael Lanier had received a similar "long-distance" message from Woodstock, telling much the same story; and Mr. Lanier felt sympathy for the boy. So when the latter appeared later he says he gave him $10. It is understood that the telephone calls came from a place on State street, Montpelier.

Later Mr. White and Mr. Lanier happened to meet and they told each other the story of helping out a worthy young man who was in trouble. The combining of notes started them, and Mr. Lanier at once instituted a search through the police. When Chief Durkee returned yesterday, he remembered seeing a young man in the Sherwood house in Burlington, whose appearance had attracted his attention, and which tallied with that of the writer man. Therefore, a message was sent to the Burlington police to hold the fellow, which was done last night. It is alleged that the young man left a two weeks' bill at the hotel in Randolph.

BANK OFFICIALS SUED.

Commission Seeks to Recover $228,000
on Bad Loans.

Greenfield, Mass., March 25.—On the ground that the respondents, all of whom were members of the finance committee of the Greenfield Savings bank at the time of its suspension in February, 1909, were guilty of neglect of duty, Arthur B. Chapin, savings bank commissioner of Massachusetts, filed a bill of complaint in the supreme court yesterday and caused an attachment to be made of $250,000 against Robert Abernethy, Levi J. Gunn, Charles R. Lowell, William A. Forbes and S. B. Sawell.

The bill is a document of about 50 typewritten pages, and was filed by Charles F. Choate, Jr., of Boston, in behalf of Bank Commissioner Chapin, who in turn represents the Greenfield Savings bank. The bill alleges that the respondents failed to observe the statutes and requirements of the banking laws relative to making loans. The bill also asks that the respondents be forced to repay to the bank the money which it is alleged the bank lost as a result of their official negligence.

When the bank was enjoined from doing business in February, 1909, it had property valued at about $4,000,000. Since that time $228,000 has been charged off as losses on poor loans made by the respondents or their predecessors. It is alleged that these losses will aggregate half a million dollars. In its specifications the bill of complaint desires that Messrs. Abernethy and Gunn get from George N. Rich of North Adams inducements and gifts offered by Rich for the purpose of getting an improper loan. The bill also states that this fact did not become known to the complainant until recently and that the Greenfield Savings bank is not informed of the character and amount of such loans.

CORRECTS AN ERROR.

Hardwick Defeated Burlington High Team First.

Manager A. L. Knight of the Hardwick independent basketball team has written in correction of an item which stated that Goddard was the first team to defeat Burlington this year. This is what Mr. Knight writes: "In my paper of March 23, I noticed a statement to the effect that Burlington high school were defeated for the first time this season, by the Goddard team. This statement is erroneous, as the Burlington high school team was defeated by the Hardwick Independents at Hardwick, March 18, by a score of 25-24.

"This game resulting in a victory for the independents, might little be said in regard to it in the Burlington papers, and so it is not strange that you should make this error."

LAST CONTENTION
ENDED AT ROCKPORTAll Employees in Granite Industry Will Be at Work by the Middle of Next Week.

Gloucester, March 25.—As predicted, a settlement in the case of the striking stone cutters has followed close in the wake of the adjustment of the quarries' differences. The quarries troubles are now at an end.

Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock an agreement was signed between the representatives of the stone cutters' union and the granite manufacturers at the office of the Rockport Granite company at Pigeon Cove. This agreement called for 40¢ cents per hour, an eight-hour day, Saturday half-holiday to go into effect in 1913.

Work will not be resumed until the middle of next week, when sufficient rough stone will have been quarried to enable the men in this branch of the trade to get at work.

At a conference last evening between the representatives of the paving cutters' union and the granite cutters, the paving cutters' strike was settled by the company's conceding free air, which has been the main contention of the paving cutters.

Prior to this the company have charged about one-half of the cost of supplying air to the pneumatic drills which the men work.

This closes all the labor trouble in the granite quarries. The agreement, like those of all other branches in the quarrying business, is to run for five years.

SECOND WOMAN
MAY RECOVERFort Ethan Allen Authorities Take Charge of the Murderer's Remains.

Burlington, March 25.—The Fort Ethan Allen authorities have taken charge of the remains of Renben B. Price, the colored trooper, who killed his former sweetheart, Esther Wood, injured her boarding mistress, Anna Chandler, and then shot himself to death in Winslow's yesterday. Mrs. Chandler, it is now thought, will recover.

According to Marie Johnson, who jumped from a window 25 feet to the ground to escape the infuriated man, Price had proposed to the Wood girl several times and wished to marry her, but was as often refused for the reason that he was "too old." He was a daily visitor at the house and promised to pay the girl's board, but was evasively untruthful and rarely, if ever, did so.

He came to the house Tuesday and said that he had received his discharge and wanted to marry the girl, as he had money enough, but was again refused, and he left soon afterwards, apparently much dejected. He is supposed to have then gone to some gambling house in St. Johnsbury, where he was seen by the White Bargain store, and spent most of the night there. He returned to the house Wednesday morning and again explained that he was broke and could not pay the board as promised, but would do so the following day. He left soon afterwards but came back in the evening, again with no money. He was as persistent as ever in his efforts to woo the girl.

Yesterday morning, Miss Johnson was lying in bed, when she heard Mrs. Chandler tell the Wood girl that Price was coming and not to let him into her room, but to take him into the parlor. The Johnson girl also administered her aid and to keep him out altogether.

Miss Johnson is 20 years of age and has made her home with Mrs. Chandler since her arrival at Winslow's a year ago. Her wounds were attended by Dr. S. C. Hill, and were found to consist of a sprained ankle and some severe bruises. No signs of internal injuries were discovered.

The dead woman was 23 years of age and was born in Bluefield, Va. She came to Winslow from Troy, N. Y., last May and has since made her home with Mrs. Chandler. Little is known of her people, and she will probably be buried at Winslow at the expense of the town.

Renben B. Price was 23 years of age and was born in Omaha, Neb. He had spent three years in G. troop of the 10th cavalry, serving with the troops in the Philippines. He was unmarried and was known to be of a quiet temperament. He re-enlisted Thursday for another term of three years. The only reason advanced for his crime by his comrades at the post is that he was driven temporarily insane by the loss of his money and the hopelessness of his love affairs.

Joseph Rosenberg, proprietor of the White Bargain store, tells the story of the disappearance of Price's money, $144, which at first puzzled the authorities, and that he had taken him to see Cliff street hill; and the agent said his machine could climb the hill on the snow on low gear. He, the agent, said that if Montpelier voted to buy his machine, the company would build one and put it in here, to be tested at any time on any hill, and if it could not do the work the city need not keep it. It was at the meeting simply as an interested citizen and as a member of the present fire department.

Trusting you will give this correction in your paper, I remain,

Yours very truly,
E. B. Gilbert.

The Funeral Will Be Held Tuesday Morning at St. Monica's Church.

Israel Bonin of Lawrence street, who was struck by a Central Vermont engine early yesterday morning, while working along the Williamstown track, died from his injuries at 5:30 o'clock this morning at the City hospital, where he was hurriedly taken immediately after the accident occurred. The man suffered constantly from the broken collar bone, an abdominal injury and several other internal injuries.

At the hospital last night, serious doubts of his recovery were entertained, although the unfortunate man retained consciousness almost to the last. Shortly after midnight, a turn for the worse came, death following a few hours later. The body was taken to Badger's undertaking rooms at 6 o'clock.

Mr. Bonin is survived by his wife and one son, Henry, aged 4 years, both of whom live at the home on Lawrence street. He also leaves a brother, who is employed in Haverhill, Mass. He was born about sixty years ago in St. Elizabeth, P. Q., although he has been a resident of Barre for several years.
